He is held on a warrant for horse stealing, having stolen a horse and saddle two years ago from M. McCauley. On Thursday he pleaded guilty and was committed for trial at the next sitting of the supreme court. THE mass meeting on Tuesday night in Bannerman's Hall, was fairly well attended. Mr. A. D. O'Leary was appointed chairman, and Colin Strang secretary. The objects of the meeting were to petition the government to establish the headquarters of the mounted police in this district, at Edmonton instead of Fort Saskatchewan and to take steps to organize a law and order association. M. McCauley was the principal speaker and dwelt upon the inefficiency of the police as shown in their failure to capture George Godin both when he was here before and at the present time, and also advocated the necessity of organizing to protect settlers against the depredations made by this out-lawed class. He gave reasons in favor of having the police stationed at Edmonton as his headquarters and detachments placed at outlying points so as to be on hand when required. He pointed out that the mounted police barracks, at Edmonton and other outposts, are a resolution asking the government to forbid magistrates, who are officers of the mounted police, sitting on cases where they themselves are the informants, when there are civil magistrates to do so, was passed. A committee was appointed to draft a resolution to the government re police barracks, and the same committee was empowered to take steps to organize a law and order association.

It is rumored that Sir Chas. Tupper is to succeed Minister West as the British representative at Washington.

Great Britain has another little African war on hand. The trouble this time is with natives on the east coast who have been stirred up by Arab slave traders.

A curious fact is known of wild horses by those who have studied their habits. If there are enough in a band they divide into groups of thirteen, one stallion to twelve mares, and the curious thing about it is they never exceed that number. No matter how large the band is, this peculiar division into families was clearly noticeable so that the catchers knew it was useless to attempt to capture more than thirteen at a time.

The Northwest assembly consists of 22 members. Professionally it is composed of 6 merchants, 6 farmers, 3 lawyers, 2 doctors, 1 journalist, 1 speculator, 1 hotel keeper, 1 fund agent and 1 store manager. The oldest member is Capt. Hoey of Kinistino, who is 60 years old. The youngest is Dr. Wilson of Edmonton aged 29. The average ages of all the members is 38.8. Of nationalities 16 are Canadian born, 2 Scotch, 2 English, 1 Irish and 1 American born. 9 have been members of the old Northwest council but 13 of them the duties will be new.

There has been a fracas between some Bloods and Stonies between Sheep creek and High river. A band of Stonies was travelling across the prairie when one of their number named Hector, who was behind the band was fired on by Bloods. He returned their fire but was wounded and retired to his band. The Bloods followed when several shots were exchanged which resulted in Susy another Stony being wounded. Two Bloods are stated to have fallen and others wounded but how many are not known. A party of mounted police have been sent out after the marauding savages.
